

Heart Failure Clinic

The FirstHealth Heart Failure Clinic is an education and treatment program designed to help patients control their disease. Our clinic provides convenient and easy access to cardiology services to help reduce hospital readmissions, emergency room visits and provide continuity of care from the inpatient to outpatient setting. Once a patient is referred to the heart failure clinic, they will undergo an extensive evaluation by a multidisciplinary team consisting of, but not limited to, pharmacy and nutritional services. The patient then receives appropriate therapeutic options and educational resources that will help them better understand and actively manage their heart failure.
